

LOCAL NEWS.

CONTINUATION OF THE MAN HUNT.—The hunt for the supposed criminals who have been hiding in Mount Vernon Township, Fairfax county, still continues, but up to this morning there had been no captures. Constable Landstreet, of that township, had a force of sixty-five men on the hunt yesterday, none of whom, however, caught a glimpse of the game, though it is said three of the latter, all colored, and all heavily armed with bowie knives and revolvers, were seen by a man who was not looking for them concealed among the laurel bushes on the south side of Cameron run. Of the hunters all but ten were colored men who entered upon the sport with alacrity and seemed to take great delight in it. They are armed with every conceivable sort of weapons, and say they will not tire till the men they are after, and who are still believed to be those who lately escaped from jail at Pittsylvania Court House, are caught or driven out of the neighborhood. Since the publication of the President's military orders this morning, however, a change has come over the spirit of their dreams, and they are debating whether they had better disband and let the hunt be prosecuted by a force of the "boys in blue."

THE CHAIN GANG.—Another member of the chain gang—Henry Keith—escaped yesterday afternoon, and like those who have preceded him, is still at large. He is one of the colored men who was committed for an assault upon Justice Basil Branner—the other one, Jesse Triplett, having escaped a week or two ago. The continued escapes, the mischievous character of the gang, and the repeated conflicts of authority among its officers have wrought upon its commander that he has been made positively sick, and the force was out today in charge of the Lieutenant. The difficulty which occurred day before yesterday between the captain and the lieutenant, and which led to the withdrawal of the gang from their work, was settled by the Superintendent of Police, who decided that Captain Sipple should command those of the gang who are quartered in the jail, and Lieutenant Latten those who are imprisoned in the work house.

A LONG WALK.—A man, accompanied by his wife and child—the latter six years old—arrived here yesterday, who stated that he came from North Carolina, and that leaving the borders of that State on the first of last month, he had walked the entire distance to this city—the child never having fainted once on the way. He was on the lookout for work, and said if he did not find it here he would "step out" to Baltimore, or further north. A young man soon after the war used to "step over" from Leesburg to Winchester, which necessitated the crossing of the Blue Ridge Mountains and the Shenandoah River—but then he was not accompanied by a wife and child.

THE STRIKE ENDED.—A special telegram to the Baltimore Sun of this morning, from Cumberland, says:—"The strike of the boatmen on the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal against the various coal companies operating in the Cumberland region, which has held for a month or more past, was terminated this morning. The boatmen demanded an advance of ten cents per ton freight on coal to the District of Columbia, which the companies have at last acceded to. This would indicate that there must have been some revival of the demand for the semi-bituminous coal after a long, dull season."

POLICE REPORT.—The following cases have been reported at police headquarters since yesterday afternoon:

Charity Green, colored, for huckstering without license, was fined and discharged. Green Crawford, for abusing George Scott, both colored, was fined and discharged, as was also the complainant. Several parties, arrested for keeping dogs without license, were discharged upon taking out the requisite papers.

A grange was to have been organized in Arlington on Thursday evening (24). Excelsior Lodge, O. G. T., celebrated its seventy anniversary Wednesday (23). The school children of Arlington are to be ransomed from idleness next Monday.

BOATING PARTY.—The young ladies and gentlemen of the German Lutheran Church choir made a trip yesterday to the farm of Mr. Napoleon Schaffer, on the Maryland side of the river, below Fort Foote, and there enjoyed themselves most pleasantly during the day, and upon returning were approached by the polite and energetic Capt. English, of the steam tug Comet, who insisted upon towing them up, much to their delight, and on arriving the captain received many thanks.

PERSONAL.—Rev. Dr. McKim has returned from his summer vacation and will hold service in Christ Church next Sunday, as usual. Gen. Beauregard passed through this city yesterday evening on his way to Baltimore. It is understood that Phil. D. Johnston, son of Mr. Rauben Johnston of this city, has received an appointment as cadet engineer at the Annapolis Naval Academy.

PORTNER'S BREWERY.—Still further improvements are in progress to what is already the best arranged and most complete brewery in the South. Porter's—which, when they are finished, will make it inferior to none, except in point of size to any in the whole country. Those now under way are the erection of a malt house and an enlargement and rearrangement of the refrigeratory facilities of the establishment.

MASONIC RECORD.—The members of Alexandria Washington Lodge are preparing a historical and biographical volume covering the entire period of the existence of the lodge. The work of preparing this record has been entrusted to Mr. F. L. Brockett, who has already received a large number of letters containing valuable information of a biographical and anecdotal character which will be incorporated in his forthcoming volume.

GARDEN RAIDERS.—A party of boys—and those of Alexandria are as bad as any in the world—made a raid on the garden of the mansion known as Colvins, the residence of Mr. Marshall, Assistant Postmaster General, yesterday, by scaling the high brick walls which enclose it, and were not driven off until they had robbed the vines of all the grapes that were upon them.

LIGHT LITERATURE.—From the book and periodical store of Mr. Geo. E. French, we received this morning Harper's Weekly and Frank Leslie's Newspaper, of the 12th inst., both filled with well executed illustrations; and Dime's Portfolio of Fashions, for the fall and winter, containing full accounts and descriptions of everything that is most interesting to the ladies.

HOSE.—Five hundred feet of new leather hose, and the old hose that was sent on for repairs, were received here from Philadelphia by steamer this morning for the steam fire engines of the city, both of which are now well supplied with excellent hose. Two hundred feet of the new hose went to the Hydraulics and three hundred to the Columbia engine.
